WASHINGTON, D.C. — AFPM Senior Vice President of Government Relations & Policy, Geoff Moody, issued the following statement today on Utah's announcement of an agreement around House Bill 575:

> "AFPM applauds the leadership of Governor Spencer Cox, Senate President J. Stuart Adams and House Speaker Mike Schultz for building consensus around this legislation."
>
> "Utah is leaning into its advantages as a producer and refiner of energy and has become an energy powerhouse as a result. Every year, Utah becomes more and more important to energy security in the Western United States and it's a place American refineries and midstream companies are confident and eager to invest."

Print as PDF:

Media Contact:

Ericka Perryman

media@afpm.org

202.457.0480

About AFPM:

The American Fuel & Petrochemical Manufacturers (AFPM) is the leading trade association representing the makers of the fuels that keep us moving, the petrochemicals that are the essential building blocks for modern life, and the midstream companies that get our feedstocks and products where they need to go. We make the products that make life better, safer and more sustainable — we make progress.

Topics

Operations

Fuel Products

Fuel Policy

Transportation & Infrastructure

Tax